Chance for youth

Altona Council has called for applications from young men aged 16-20, to attend a youth seminar at Melbourne University from February 17 to 24 next year.

An invitation from the Sport and Recreation Minister, Mr. Dixon, for an Altona nomination was received by the council at its last meeting.

The seminar is being sponsored by the State Government.

Altona Town Clerk, Mr. S. Fell, said yesterday applications would close with him on October 8.

Details of the seminar and of qualifications for nomination are contained in an advertisement in this issue of the Star.

ALTONA PIONEER DIES

Altona resident, Miss Mabel Borrack, who died at the weekend, aged 73, was a member of one of the district's earliest pioneer families.

Miss Borrack was a school teacher, following in the footsteps of her father who was one of the earliest headmasters of Altona Primary School.

Her last post was at Brooklyn school.

She also taught at Newport and was librarian at St. Leo's, Altona.

Miss Borrack, who lived in Blyth Street, Altona, belonged to the Roman Catholic faith and was a devoted church worker all her life.

Elen's win turns sour

Triumph turned to disaster in an instant for 16-year-old Elen Flego of Altona High School at last week's school sports at Olympic Park.

Trained to a peak of fitness she swept over the 400 metres well ahead of her competitors.

Six metres in front of her nearest rival, Elen mistook the last marker for the finish and ran off the track just before the finish tape. She was disqualified.

PAISLEY BLOCK PLAN MENTAL HEALTH RISK

-DOCTOR CLAIMS

Altona Council's medical officer, Dr. John Leyden, has strongly criticised the proposed Housing Commission development of the Paisley area.

He based his objections on industrial activity in the area and "a danger that the Housing Commission community will be under a psychological disadvantage".

As a result of Dr. Leyden's report, Altona Council has decided to oppose the Housing Commission's plans or any housing or industrial development of the former Paisley briquette dump area.

Notice of the council's opposition will be sent to the Board of Works, the Housing Commission, the Town and Country Planning Board and district Members of Parliament.

In a report to the council, Dr. Leyden said the proposed housing development site was unsuitable, "because of its proximity to the refinery, with the danger of fire, explosion, noxious fumes and excessive noise and light from the refinery".

"Some of these constitute safety and, to a lesser extent, health hazards," he said.

All were nuisances detracting from the environment, "and, in my opinion, serious objections to the development of high density housing".

Dr. Leyden said Altona was "singularly lacking in attractive features."

The area around the old briquette dump was probably the most unattractive part of the city.

"A housing plan such as the one under consideration might possibly be suitable if there were some redeeming features in the adjacent landscape," he said.

"Here there are none."

Dr. Leyden said it should be pointed out that occupants of the commission site would be living in crowded conditions, adjacent to a community mainly of homeowners with adequate gardens and private space.

"Under these conditions, I would think that there is a danger a Housing Commission community will be under a psychological disadvantage which will lead to general dissatisfaction and serious problems," he said.

Non-voters are safe

Altona Council will not take legal action against people who failed to vote at the municipal elections in August.

The council made its decision after hearing a report from the Town Clerk, Mr. S. Fell.

The council decided to again ask the Municipal Association to press for a change in municipal election dates, to avoid them clashing with school vacations.

Mr. Fell's report showed 65.8 per cent. of people entitled to vote last August did so.

By the close of the poll, 31 postal votes had not been returned and there had been 284 calls and letters giving excuses for not voting, Mr. Fell reported.

He added that the provisions of the compulsory voting regulations did not apply to ratepayers who were not resident in Altona.

There were 1834 people in this bracket, leaving 3290 resident voters who failed to vote.

Altona Council has made repeated requests during recent years for a change in election times.

In reply to its latest plea made to the Local Government Minister, Mr. Hunt, the council was told he was sympathetic to the proposal.

But no alteration could be made unless the Education Department could give a guarantee as to the actual dates of school holidays, Mr. Hunt said.

BOTTOM FALLS OUT OF BABY MARKET

The Altona District Hospital has been hit by a marked decline in mid-wifery bookings.

The fall-off became apparent early this year.

It resulted in a considerable loss of income to the hospital.

This in part contributed to the hospital's deficit of $7494 for the financial year, compared with a deficit of $317 the previous year.

Treasurer, Mr. R. Willis also reported that public patient admissions increased, adding further to the financial burden.

The actual cost of keeping a patient in the hospital was $32.48 a day, against a return of $23 for intermediate patients and less for public patients.

However, Mr. Willis reported that bad debts written off were $580 lower than the previous year.

This fall resulted from most patients being fully insured.

At the annual meeting, life governors' certificates were presented to Mr. K. Thompson, of the No. 7 Hospital Aiders' Club ($300 donation), Mr. F. C. Gilbertson of R. J. Gilbertson Pty. Ltd. ($500 donation).

A life governorship will also be presented to Cr. P. Lynch, representing the Altona City Council ($200 donation).

The five retiring board members, Drs. P. Frajman and J. Houghton, Mr. J. Murphy, Capt. H. Pirie and Mrs. D. Shaw, were re-elected.

At the subsequent board meeting Mr. Bob Stringer was elected for his fifth year as president. Treasurer, Mr. R. Willis, senior vice-president, Mr. H. Weaver, and junior vice-president, Mr. J. Murphy were also re-elected.

RECEPTION AT MUNICH BARREL

St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Altona, was the setting for the marriage of Joanne, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Wynands, of Dove Avenue, Altona, with Terence Edwards.

The couple is pictured above. The Rev. P. L. Searson officiated.

The groom is the youngest son of Mrs. R. S. Edwards, of North Melbourne and the late Mr. R. C. Edwards.

Raelene Harper and Denise Griffiths were bridesmaids. The groom's brother, Bob, was best man and Ron Rigby was groomsman. A reception was held at the Munich Barrel, Footscray.

New art teacher is from Nebraska

Mr. Greg Holden says Altona is just like his home town, Waverley City in Nebraska, USA.

Mr. Holden, 21, who is a new art teacher, at Altona High School, has only been teaching for a month.

He thinks other subjects don't have the immediate results that art does.

Looking relaxed and happy, Mr. Holden does not mind if his class is noisy, as long as all his students work.

He grades a work not so much on its quality, as by the effort that a student has put in it.

Mr. Holden's parents are also teachers.

Mr. Holden shows Altona High School student, Scott Muir how to make a pair of boots.

Flats growth talks called by Altona

A public seminar on Board of Works planning amendments affecting flats and residential development has been sponsored by Altona Council.

The seminar, open to all interested, will be at Altona Civic Hall next Wednesday (October 10) at 7.30 p.m.

Senior officers of the Board of Works will explain, with plans and pictures, the proposed amendment, number 30 on the Metropolitan Planning Scheme.

When adopted, the amendment would affect flats and house construction throughout the entire metropolitan area, Altona Town Clerk, Mr. S. Fell, said yesterday.

The council and the Board of Works hoped representatives of all adjoining councils, and other interested people, would attend, he said.

The amendment was at present on exhibition at the board's offices and anyone had the right to express an opinion on or lodge an objection to it.

Altona Council had set a higher standard in its flats development code than that applicable under the present Board of Works ordinance, Mr. Fell said.

It was expected the seminar would last about 1½ hours and the board's officers would be prepared to answer any questions submitted by those present, he added.

Car raffle

A car will be raffled by the Altona Hospital Ladies Auxiliary to raise funds for extensions to the hospital. Tickets will be on sale from, Saturday, October 1.

For tickets, contact auxiliary president, Mrs. June Crofts, 70 Civic Parade, Altona (Phone: 398 2720).

PAISLEY BLOCK PLAN

He quoted Professor Charles Robertson, professor of architecture at Melbourne University and the council's advisor of the Paisley Proposal, as saying there is evidence that multi-storey development does not adequately provide for family life.

"Therefore any attempt to produce higher density solutions has now become known as 'lowrise' form and is to be welcomed," he said.

Prof. Robertson had said he believed the area would be unpleasant for family life and had recommended the land be used for other purposes.

He had said that while he generally favored the Housing Commission's new plans, they were untried in Australian society and he believed they should be tested in an area where they would not be affected by adverse conditions, such as existed at Paisley.

The council's decision to oppose the development was made on the resolution of Cr. W. L. J. Crofts and Cr. C. W. Carlsson.

New food chain buys 13 stores

Australia's fastest-growing food chain, Jewel Food Stores Pty. Ltd., recently acquired 13 "Big N" and National stores.

One of the stores is at 86 Pier Street, Altona.

With four executives from the Woolworths group, he launched the Jewel chain in 1971.

The group bought 42 stores trading in Sydney as Warmans Ltd., with an annual turnover of $5 million.

Two years later the chain has 95 stores and an annual sales volume of more than $30 million.

The group's policy is "low overheads — low prices".

The chain seems sure to provide strong, aggressive competition against other large food chains established in Melbourne.

The former National stores were changed in name on September 3. They are being closed progressively for 3-4 days and renovated to carry more than 4000 products.

The group claims prices will fall.

It hopes to use the 13 stores as a springboard for a major chain in Victoria.

Some of its stores are in direct competition to Safeway, Coles' or Woolworths' stores.

Mr. Fleming said: "We have competed successfully against these people before."

"We have one thing

they have not — no large shareholders to satisfy.

"We are prepared to sell at a loss in Victoria for a number of years if need be."

The group's cost-saving methods include simple store and shelf layouts and storage techniques.

The group claims to specialise in one thing — low prices.

Organ club

Mr. Cy Stanney will play at the next musical evening being arranged by the Western Suburbs Organ Club.

This will be on Wednesday, October 10 at 8 p.m. at Pennell Hall, Burke Street, Braybrook.

Mr. Stanney was musical advisor to the Granada Theatre circuit for several years and has accompanied top singing artists including Judy Garland.

BUTCHERY BREAKING

An Altona man's butchers' shop in Footscray was broken into last weekend, but nothing was stolen.

The butcher is Mr. Raymond Harris, of Hammond Street, Altona, who conducts a shop in Nicholson Street, Footscray.

Intruders broke a side window between 1 and 6 p.m. last Saturday and entered the premises, but stole nothing.

New cricket magazine

A new cricket magazine has been launched in Australia.

Cricketer, a monthly magazine, covers every aspect of cricket.

And Cricketer has a team of writers which will tickle the fancy of any cricket enthusiast.

The team is headed by the greatest cricket name of all — Sir Donald Bradman.

Bradman discusses batting and general approach — an instructional story every active cricketer must read.

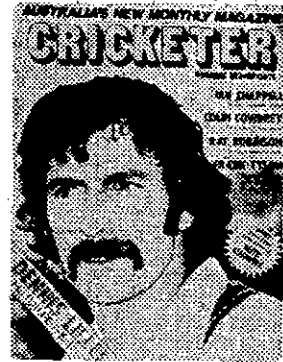

Ian Chappell contributes his own exclusive column every month.

Ray Robinson, Australia's finest cricket writer, is also a regular columnist in Cricketer.

In the first issue he profiles Jack Gregory — cricket's "Geligite Jack".

John Arlott reports from England on the collapse of the MCC team.

Frank Tyson asks: "So you want to be a professional cricketer?" — and gives the answers.

Colin Cowdrey analyses England's new Test skipper.

Also in Cricketer is the frankest interview with Geoff Boycott ever published.

Melbourne district and sub-district cricket is given six pages of in-depth coverage.

And the rest of the team includes such recognized experts in their field as Phil Wilkins, Frank O'Callaghan, Mike Gandy, Dick Burgess, Ross Morrison, Andy Quick, and Don Wilkey.

Cricketer can be instantly recognized by the startling color portrait of Dennis Lillee on the cover.

And inside, Lillee gives his most open interview ever — with teammate and friend Ian Brayshaw.

Cricketer is only 50 cents for 88 pages of solid cricket: It's at your news-agent now.

MICIC, GARDINER, BULJEVIC HOLD THE KEY

By LAURIE SCHWAB

Last week's losers Footscray J.U.S.T. and George Cross will meet in the second round of the State League Cup series at Olympic Park on Sunday.

Both teams lost 0-1 last week — J.U.S.T. to Hellas and George Cross to Hakoah.

Hellas and Hakoah will meet in the earlier match on Sunday. On Saturday, Albion Rovers re-enters the Federation Cup after a week's lay-off and should beat Moreland. Rovers' last victory was their 13-0 thrashing of Ballarat.

The opening double-header of the State League Cup produced some of the worst soccer seen this year.

The Cup means very little. It is not a finals series, like the one run in Sydney and there's little glory attached to beating three other teams at a time of the year when most players are looking forward to a break.

Perhaps the Cup will achieve a little more importance next year, as it is proposed that all State League clubs take part and that the series be run on selected weekends during the championship season.

The outcome of Sunday's matches will depend heavily on the availability of a number of star players.

Hellas played without Peter Bourne and Ian Marshall last week and J.U.S.T. without Branko Buljevic.

J.U.S.T. also lost captain Frank Micic when he was injured in a tackle during the second half.

George Cross had an absentee in linkman John Gardiner, who arrived late for the match and didn't play until after half time.

J.U.S.T. played probably its worst match of the season last week but could improve with Buljevic back in the team, provided of course, that Micic is also fit to play.

George Cross had many chances against Hakoah and Joe Cunningham even had the ball in the net, only to have referee Lamb disallow the goal.

Last time the teams met, George Cross beat J.U.S.T. 2-1 and the Cross has the ability to win again on Sunday, especially with Gardiner playing the full match.

In the other game, Hakoah has to start favorite if Bourne and Marshall are left out of the Hellas team again.

Hakoah has been playing solidly, if not entertainingly, and left striker Mike Micevski is performing well.

FOOTSCRAY J.U.S.T.: Jimmy Mithavlevic, Mate Zilovic, Andy Kazi, Jovan Milinovic, Mirko Rnjak, Milan Vidakovic, Frank Micic, John Mrackiewicz, Soren Fisher, Slobodan Lukic, Branko Buljevic.

Dosen, Jim Lapiash, Ken Wheeler, Jim Ackers, Steve Gadsby, Mike Mandalis, Mike Clarey, Mike Micevski.

HELLAS: Marko Fode, Giovanni Batticchio, John Bedford, Steve Walker, Jim Pirzas, Ian Marshall, John Daperis, Andrew Bozillas, Bill McIntyre, Jim Armstrong, Nat Little.

Rothmans Medal

Footscray J.U.S.T. captain Frank Micic is hot favorite to win the Rothmans Medal on Friday night and become the most decorated player in Victorian soccer history.

Micic, 32, won the Bill Fleming Player of the Year award two weeks ago and he won the Argus Medal in 1964 and 1967.

The 1973 Rothmans Medal would give him four major league trophies.

John Gardiner of George Cross has three awards to his credit. He won the Rothmans Medal in 1971 and 1972 — the first two years it was presented — and took out the Bill Fleming award last year.

Micic also holds the record number of Victorian appearances and has played six full international matches for Australia.

His major rival from each club in the Rothmans Medal voting is likely to be: HELLAS: Steve Walker; GEORGE CROSS: Norm Maitland; HAKOAH: David Baker; MELBOURNE: Joe Szabo; ALEXANDER: Vince Bannon; POLONIA: Mike Olinowski; WILHELMINA: Mike Pye; JUVENTUS: Sandy Irvine; AUSTRIA: Jim Kondarios; BOX HILL: Harry Bauer; SLAVIA: Tony Harris.

Others who could come into calculations are: Ian Marshall (Hellas), John Gardiner (George Cross), Eddy Marmur (Polonia), Rudi Muskee, Dick Ward (Wilhelmina) and Jack Goodwin (Austria).

All major award winners:

ARGUS MEDAL: 1954 M. Payne (South Yarra); 1955 M. Busidoni (Juventus); 1956 R. Wemyss (Polonia) and P. Cubero (J.U.S.T.); 1957 J. McLeod (Box Hill); 1958 W. Westerveld (Wilhelmina); 1959 A. Sunshine v. Canterbury

Sydney Second Division champion Canterbury Marrickville will play against Sunshine City at Gardens Reserve Anderson Road, Sunshine, on Saturday at 3 p.m.

Canterbury's team will include former Sunshine players Ray Pocock (brother of Bobby), and Billy Rogers.

Also in the team will be Steve Kerl, the top scorer in the NSW Second Division. Pocock, Rogers and Kerl all played for Melbourne before switching to Sydney in 1971.

Hynds tops the poll

Altona City centre back Ian Hynds scored the most impressive victory in the Metropolitan Soccer League best and fairest awards announced last night.

Hynds won the First Division award with a total of 38 votes — 16 more than runner-up Mike Chudiak of Lions.

The Second Division award went to R. Malcolm of Coburg with 23 votes, Third Division to V. Tyrikos (Olympic) with 24 votes and Fourth Division to J. Humphreys (Mornington) with 27 votes.

Les wins best and fairest

Centreman Les Stillman polled 34 votes to win Williamstown Football Club's best and fairest Andy Taylor Memorial award last week.

Black flanker Tony Hannebery (Peter McIntyre Memorial) and captain-coach Barry Gill (A. J. Johnson award) were second and third respectively.

Hannebery scored 33 and Gill, 32.

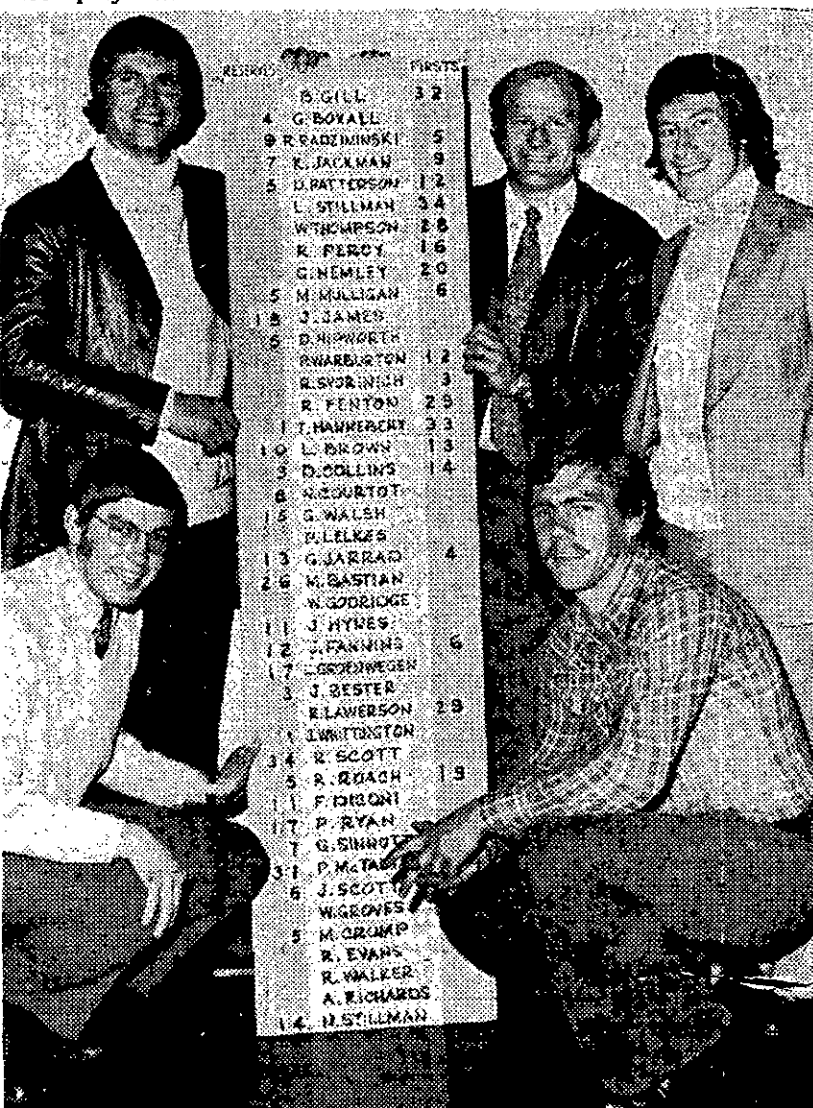

Stillman has played 48 senior games with Williamstown. He won the fairest and best award in 1972 and was third in 1971.

Reports claim Stillman will not play with Williamstown next season. He says: "I really don't know."

Robert Scott (34 votes) led Phillip McTaggart (31 votes) and Mick Bastian (26 votes) to win the 2nd, 16 fairest and best.

Peter Ryan won the VFA first division 2nd, 16 full back award.

Lopatic leaves

Footscray J.U.S.T. full-back Marjan Lopatic will return to Yugoslavia on Thursday.

Lopatic, 26, arrived early in 1971, on a three-year contract.

During his time with J.U.S.T. the team has won two State League championships and Lopatic has played about 10 matches for Victoria.

He came third in the voting for the 1973 Bill Fleming Player of the Year award.

J.U.S.T. spokesman Mr. Z. Nikolic said last night: "Lopatic has said he is returning to Yugoslavia for good."

"The club is hoping, however, that he will find living conditions there are not as good as in Australia, and that he will return, the way Slobodan Lukic did recently."

Lopatic played for Yugoslavian Second Division team Novi Sad before coming to Australia.

Hoping to lose

Sunshine City soccer club is hoping that it does not reach the Federation Cup Final.

If it does reach the final, it simply won't play, even though it means facing the wrath of the Victorian Soccer Federation.

The final of the Federation Cup, which is contested by the 48 Metropolitan League teams, was originally scheduled for October 28.

So Sunshine went ahead and booked its end-of-season trip to Tasmania for October 21.

Meanwhile, the VSF made October 21 the new date for the Cup final.

Sunshine secretary Doug Hilton said the club was not officially informed of the change.

"I explained the situation to the federation, but they said we have to honor our commitment to the Cup series and if we don't, we'll be disciplined," Mr. Hilton said.

"But we can't possibly put off our trip, because all the bookings have been made and a Tasmanian select side is lined up to play against us."

"Now we're in the position of having to play on for no reason at all, because we definitely won't be playing in the final."

"And if we lose a match now, we'll be accused of throwing it, which is something Sunshine would never do."

Sunshine's next Cup match is against Fernree Gully on Saturday.

Sunshine finished second to Mooroolbark on the First Division ladder, and the two teams are strongly favored to reach the final.

Weekend matches

Weekend matches with likely winners in capitals:

STATE LEAGUE CUP, Sunday at Olympic Park: Hellas v. HAKOAH, Footscray J.U.S.T. v. GEORGE CROSS.

FEDERATION CUP: ALBION ROVERS v. Moreland.

INTERSTATE FRIENDLY MARCH, Gardens Reserve, Sunshine, Saturday: Sunshine City v. CANTERBURY (NSW).

HBA CONTRIBUTORS

please note
increased medical & hospital benefits as from 1st September, 1973, increased contributions
as from 1st October, 1973.

MEDICAL BENEFITS

The Federal Minister for Social Security has directed that health funds pay increased benefits for consultations and home visits by general practitioners, specialists and consultant physicians for service rendered on and after 1st September, 1973. The new benefits range from $3.20 for a G.P. consultation (up 40 cents) to $22.30 for a consultant physician home visit (up $2.30).

The Commonwealth is not increasing its share of the benefit. Because there are no reserves in the medical fund to absorb these increased benefits HBA has found it necessary to increase contributions for medical benefits by 16 cents per week for a single person and 32 cents per week for a family, to be paid from 1st October, 1973.

HOSPITAL BENEFITS

From 1st September, 1973, public hospital fees increased as follows: Public Ward from $15 per day to $20 per day. Intermediate Ward from $23 to $30 per day. Private Ward from $30 to $40 minimum.

HBA met the cost of the additional benefits during September, estimated at $1,100,000, from hospital fund reserves. As from 1st October, 1973, weekly contributions for hospital benefits will also be increased.

THESE ARE THE NEW CONTRIBUTIONS AS FROM 1 OCTOBER 1973:

RAIL HOLD-UP TO BE EASED

Two new railway tracks under construction between South Kensington and Footscray will ease the present bottleneck.

The State Minister for Transport, Mr. Meagher, says this in a letter to Mr. Alex Knight, MLC for Melbourne West.

Mr. Meagher says: "This work will not extend beyond the end of the Melbourne end of the platforms at Footscray."

"The additional tracks will remove the existing bottleneck between South Kensington and Footscray and enable rail services to and from the western suburbs and the Geelong and Ballarat lines to be improved."

"Future plans envisage the construction of a third track between Footscray and Newport."

"I understand that the general concept is that this track will be on the east side of the existing lines."

"However, I am informed that no planning into the detailed location of the track or its effect on adjoining properties has been done."

"I understand that it is unlikely that such detailed planning will be commenced for some years."

CLUB PROMOTED TO TOP DIVISION

Excitement is running high at the Altona Bowling Club as members prepare for their first year in A1 Division of the metropolitan pennant competition.

The club was promoted to the top division this year after a successful season in division A2. Teams will also be playing in division A3 and B5.

Club president, Mr. Phil Kelly is confident that 1973-74 will be a good year as bowling in the top division will create keen competition and attract new members.

All top skippers from last year are available again this season.

They are Frank Neilson, Theo Reid, Syd Carton and Jack Fisher.

Good form shown by other bowlers, including club champion Ron (Tiny) Douglas, will create many a headache for the selection committee this season.

Club secretary, Noel Grant is keen to hear from anyone interested in playing bowls at Altona, whether they have played before or not.

New bowlers are especially welcome and expert coaching is available as well as friendly advice on buying bowls and equipment.

Interested people can call at the club in Fresno Street, or phone Noel on 398 1407 or 398 2630.

Apart from competing in the pennant on Saturdays, there are other, less serious events at the Altona Club. Mixed bowls on Sunday and Thursday afternoons and twilight bowls on Wednesday night are very popular.

Women members of the club also compete in Pennant competition, having teams in Divisions A1 and B2. These games are played on Tuesdays. President of the ladies' section is Mrs. Beryl Tribe and Mrs. Joan Milliken is secretary.

TENNIS CLUB TO FIELD 16 TEAMS
